My Very Dear Amelia

Your very interesting letter of yesterday would have received an immediate reply but that I was disabled from writing by a nervous affection in my right hand, which troubles to day, but is not so bad. I will send a letter for transmission to Mr Gray, and will try to express my thanks to my kind transatlantic friends

I have been out all day with Mr Donisthorpe and have now to prepare to join Your Mama, Edith and Teddy, who are going over to dine at Belvedere to celebrate Wordsworth's 23d birthday. I gave Mama your letter to read, to the has had your Wednesday Edith is not very well, Mamma and Fidely are in Good health. I am poorly All send Love to the combined household

I have something to say which I must re serve ~~for~~ for another time. Meanwhile I am, as Ever,
Most lovingly Yours
Geo Thompson
